Dear Sir:

I am enclosing a column
by Bert Bachman in the U.S. News & American, with an item I have under -lined!

You have proved that the espionage can be contacted, but how about me press ^{which} give away secret secrets in wholesale lots, under the guise of "free press" to feel pleased?

They should be unpenanced
with the knowledge that this is ~~unethical~~, even tho' it is "Cold" at present, but that giving away military secrets, etc.
to ~~real~~ paper is still TREASON.

Thanks for listening (Readings)

Now Hear This:

Something to Wave About

By BERT BACHARACH

GIRLS: Have your new permanent while sun is in Scorpio and when moon is in a fixed sign (Leo, Taurus or Aquarius) and you'll not be disappointed. It will last much longer . . . What does it mean when someone says, "Just to show you my heart's in the right place?" (Do we have a choice?) . . . Did you know that jails in 28 different countries permit "conjugal visits" between prisoners and their wives? Penology experts claim it aids rehabilitation of the criminals . . . Odd Sight: Joan Crawford carries her own bottle of vinegar to many of the restaurants she visits and mixes her salad dressing with it! . . . Recent pictures of L.A.'s Mickey Cohen show a great resemblance to the late Al Capone . . . The health food shop at 57th and 6th sells coffee for a dime and coffee-substitute for 15c!

HOLLYWOOD'S barbershops specialize in "invisible haircuts" for stars in the middle of making a picture, who have to keep their hair looking exactly as it did in previous scenes . . . Reaction to my recent note about bloomers being a "disappearing item," I've been informed that "Fancy Dance Pantaloons" and "Underpinnings Bloomerettes" are big sellers! If a beautiful Rolls Royce has "7Z" on its license plate, it's one of the rental jobs from Birmingham Livery . . . Oddball Promotion: Every day a messenger-delivered corned beef or pastrami sandwich with the label reading, "James Komack at the Waldorf Delicatessen." It turned out to be a teaser-campaign for a very funny album of the same name! . . . New toy that may sweep this country is the "Wobble Board" from Australia. Manipulation of board makes sounds of a bongo drum . . . Want an extra-good cheeseburger? Mix the melted cheese with the hamburger meat before cooking, instead of using it just as a topping.

BUSINESSMAN'S dilemma: The phones can be silent for long periods 'til the very minute one starts dictating —when they start ringing continuously! . . . Fact about Fallacies: People can be sound asleep with both eyes open . . . Kitchen-Snooping: Chef at the University Club pierces apple skins before baking, to keep them from bursting . . . Hollywood's sculptress, Lila Di Leo is a real beauty — and keeps turning down movie offers. Prefers sculpting . . . Simile: As sweet as your wife's conduct the day before her birthday . . . Bet you wouldn't have guessed that Alaska has almost 400 air fields, and 70 seaplane bases — with more being built! . . . Kangaroo steak now on the menus in Australia. Seems they're multiplying at an alarming rate, and must be disposed of.

HELPFUL HINTS: Handymen Drawer pulls, from an old piece of furniture, inverted and attached to the workbench, make fine receptacles for small nails, screws and parts . . . Old egg-beaters make perfect paint mixers much better and faster than a stick . . . Coffee or tea stains on plastic cups or messenger-delivered corned beef or pastrami sandwich with the label read-
